IV.	Executive Summary	The municipality of Alabel is subdivided into 13 barangays with a population of 75,447 as of 2010. Alabel is strategically located in the eastern side of the province of Sarangani, bounded on the North by the Municipality of Malungon, on the South by the Province of Davao Occidental and on the West by the City of General Santos and Sarangani Bay. Its major tourism attractions are the annual festivities, the diverse culture of its people, its beaches and inland resorts, as well as industrial and support facilities like the bunker C-fired diesel fuel power plant and septage treatment facility. The area has an abundance of waterfalls, rivers, lakes, caves, valleys, mountains and forests that can be found in rural upland barangays. These nature-based tourism attractions however are yet to be developed and provided with suitable support services and infrastructure, as well as the introduction of tourism-related activities Lake Beto, located in an 8-hectare area, is one of the potential natural attractions in the area which needs to be developed. The LGU of Alabel is offering the development of Lake Beto to interested investors, in coordination with the landowners, so as to maximize the economic potentials of the area for tourism. There is still no existing tourism infrastructure within the vicinity. Fish cages are present, built by the local community. The surrounding land is owned by private individuals while 25% is owned by Cong. Emmanuel "Manny" Pacquiao. The attractions that can be developed in and around the lake include boating, game fishing & wake boarding.
